DIANE R. BARTELS PRESENTS "SHARPIE" AT DAKOTA COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY EVENT

Diane R. Bartels will present, "Sharpie: Nebraska's Queen of the Air", on Friday October 5th at 7:00 p.m. at the South Sioux City Public Library, 2121 Dakota Avenue, South Sioux City, Nebraska. This program is presented by the Dakota County Historical Society. This Power Point presentation is based on Bartels' extensive research and book about Evelyn Sharp, a pioneering, teenage aviatrix who became a war hero. Sharp taught men to fly and was one of the first women to ferry U.S. Army Air Force fighters during World War II, freeing men for combat. The program is appropriate for students as well as adults.

Diane Bartels is a lifelong Nebraskan who grew up wanting to fly airplanes. She earned her pilot certificate in 1966 and with that evolved a commitment to aerospace education and the preservation of Nebraska's rich aviation heritage. In 1991, Diane was recognized as Nebraska's Teacher-Scholar by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The award made it possible for her to write and publish "Sharpie: The Life Story of Evelyn Sharp, Nebraska's Aviatrix." Diane belongs to several aviation organizations, has been published in journals and periodicals and has presented at national conferences. She served as principal consultant for the NETV documentary film

"Sharpie: Born To Fly."

The program is sponsored by Humanities Nebraska and the Dakota County Historical Society, through the HN Speakers Bureau. Speakers Bureau connects Nebraskans with over 165 authors, historians, scholars, musicians, and storytellers who give performances and speak on topics as diverse as the immigrant experience, Great Plains history, world folk music, Nebraska literature, international law, and Native American culture.

STAFF BIOGRAPHIES: MEET MICHAELA FRERICHs

Hi I'm Michaela Frerichs!

I am the Assistant Children's Librarian at the South Sioux City Public Library. My husband and I moved to Sioux City, IA on New Year's Eve of 2017/2018 after he was offered a promotion with Menards. I am originally from North Platte, NE and graduated from the University of Nebraska at Kearney with a Bachelor's in Journalism and a minor in English Popular Culture.

My husband and I married a few months after my college graduation before moving a state and a half away to Muscatine, IA for my husband's job. We spent (exactly) one year there while I worked at a radio station, splitting my time between being on-air and writing for the station's weekly, direct-mail newspaper.

My husband and I enjoy living close to family and visit them often. We have a very energetic Blue Heeler who keeps us on our toes and a handsome black cat who reminds us that naps are one of God's greatest gifts. In my free time, I can be found watching too much Netflix or just wandering in Target. I also enjoy freelance photography and writing (AKA blogging my opinions no one else probably wants to hear).

I have always loved reading and spent much of my childhood at my public library. I am excited to be in a role that gives me the opportunity to share my love of literature with the next generation.

The Book of Aron by Jim Shepard

We will discuss The Book of Aron on Monday October 8th at 3:00 p.m.

"Aron, [a child living in World War II Poland], is an engaging if peculiar and unhappy young boy whose family is driven by the German onslaught from the Polish countryside into Warsaw and slowly battered by deprivation, disease, and persecution ... When his family is finally stripped away from him, Aron is rescued by Janusz Korczak, a doctor renowned throughout prewar Europe as an advocate of children's rights who, once the Nazis swept in, was put in charge of the Warsaw orphanage. Treblinka awaits them all, but does Aron manage to escape--as his mentor suspected he could--to spread word about the atrocities?"--Amazon.com.

We will discuss Everything I Never Told You by Celeste Ng on Monday October 22nd at 3:00 P.M.

"Lydia is dead. But they don't know this yet. So begins the story of this exquisite debut novel, about a Chinese American family living in 1970s small-town Ohio. Lydia is the favorite child of Marilyn and James Lee; their middle daughter, a girl who inherited her mother's bright blue eyes and her father's jet-black hair. Her parents are determined that Lydia will fulfill the dreams they were unable to pursue in Marilyn's case that her daughter become a doctor rather than a homemaker, in James's case that Lydia be popular at school, a girl with a busy social life and the center of every party..."--from the publisher

STAFF RECOMMENDATIONS

Be Prepared by Vera Brosgol.
We recently got in a new graphic novel called "Be Prepared" by Vera Brosgol.

It's about a young girl trying to find her place where she just doesn't fit in. She finds out there is a camp full of kids who share her family's culture and she is excited to finally feel "normal". To her surprise, it isn't as easy as she expects. Young Vera encounters wild animals, bullies, and worst of all, the "Hollywood" (the outhouse). This story is full of laughs and super relatable for anyone who has ever felt like they don't fit in (and those of us who prefer the indoors).— Michaela Frerichs

The Lives we Bury by Allen Eskens; Allen Eskens presents a fast-paced thriller in The Life We Bury.

The novel is set in Minnesota and Iowa, in which Joe, a nontraditional college student works at a bar as a bouncer, goes to class and takes care of his alcoholic mother and autistic brother. An assignment for writing class leads him to interview a convicted murderer and rapist and murderer in order to write his biography. The assignment leads him into a world of a Vietnam vet and that of a pedophile and killer.

The Kid by Ron Hansen; Ron Hansen writes a fast-paced, historical fiction, biography of Billy the Kid in The Kid. Hansen begins with the origins of his family in Ireland, their immigration to the United States, as well as his mother's battle to raise a family. The author follows Billy as he leaves home to raise try to make a living on his own. The reader gets a look at his work life as cowboy in the Southwest and in Mexico. I found little nuggets that I had never considered, like when Jesse James went to New Mexico to recruit the Kid for his gang after the Northfield, Minnesota bank robbery. These things may be totally fictional, but it added color to the novel. Readers of westerns will love this book. Lovers of western history will love this too.
