

South Sioux City Library Sales Policy

(Approved by the City Council of the City of South Sioux City 1-14-2019 )

The South Sioux City Public Library Advisory Board has mandated that there shall be no selling of any kind within the building and on the grounds of the Library, with the following exceptions:

- library-sponsored programs in which titles and/or other approved program-related materials by a featured speaker/performer may be offered for sale by the speaker/performer;
- library-sponsored groups which in an attempt to help defray the cost of programs or as a fund raiser for the group, with prior approval of the South Sioux City Public Library Advisory Board;
- the Friends used book sales, or other Friends initiatives, which may be held at the Library with prior approval of the South Sioux City Public Library Advisory Board;
- events sponsored by the South Sioux City Public Library Foundation, with prior approval of the South Sioux City Public Library Advisory Board;
- or by a local book-seller, or his representative, invited by any of one of the above organizations, acting on behalf of any of the above organizations.
- groups using the meeting room after paying the for-profit fee, for the sale of any lawful products. The South Sioux City Public Library accepts no responsibility for the sale of any of these products and does not endorse any of these products.

The speaker/performer, or permit applicant, must notify the Library when planning to offer titles for sale. In all cases, the library staff is not responsible for collecting any payments; the speaker/performer or his representative is responsible for collecting any payments.

The South Sioux City Public Library Advisory Board reserves the right to alter, amend, or terminate this policy.

(Approved by the Advisory Board, revised 2/07/2018)
